GLASHKA with Dewi Luxe Market presents “Di Sini, Di Antara” at Jakarta Fashion Week 2027

JAKARTA, INDONESIA | GLASHKA unveils its latest collection, Di Sini, Di Antara, at Jakarta Fashion Week 2027, presented with Dewi Luxe Market at Pondok Indah Mall 3. The collection gives voice to an experience rarely spoken about: being present in body while the mind lingers elsewhere, and continuing with daily life while navigating a quiet struggle within.

Grounded in a belief in self-growth, the collection affirms that life moves forward, and that the most essential source of strength is self-encouragement. Through this perspective, GLASHKA champions inclusivity and resilience.

Di Sini, Di Antara responds to the pressures of living in a rapidly shifting cultural landscape. Conceived for the in-between, each piece is designed to move seamlessly across occasions and to welcome every wearer. In doing so, GLASHKA redefines modesty, uniting contemporary design with the enduring elegance of modest dress.

The collection also features a collaboration between GLASHKA and Marista Santividya, who transforms upcycled fabrics from GLASHKA’s production into stylish, wearable footwear. The shoes were presented on the runway, worn by the models as part of the collection.

Handcrafted embroidery sits at the heart of the collection, with every detail carrying intention and meaning. GLASHKA’s signature three petals symbolize warmth, nurturing, and strength, each rendered with a delicacy that reflects the care of its making. Through this collection, GLASHKA translates the stories of women into a single, cohesive expression.

In the city that never stops moving, with the feeling of always being here while you’re still there.

Wondering, "Am I really here?"
People see the body. The mind is elsewhere.

Di Sini, Di Antara.
Memang aku di sini.
Di antara suara yang berkicau,
di antara gedung yang menyemai cakrawala.
Aku kuat. Dan aku bertahan.

About GLASHKA

Founded in 2018, GLASHKA was built on a vision to preserve the art of hand embroidery in an increasingly computerized industry. Collaborating with skilled local artisans from Tasikmalaya, Indonesia, the brand ensures that each piece is thoughtfully handcrafted with patience, precision, and an appreciation for timeless craftsmanship.

From scarves and ready-to-wear to footwear, GLASHKA transforms leftover fabrics into refined creations, giving overlooked materials a new purpose. Every collection reflects the brand's commitment to preserving heritage, embracing sustainability, and celebrating craftsmanship with enduring value.
