About the collection

Season after season, YCH collections are often playful, balancing the retro and the contemporary with interesting seasonal prints. For the Fall/winter 2020 collection, titled as 'Dignity of the Office', the collection gives a fashionable twist to the classic office attire. Silhouettes are kept basic and formal, classic offewear fabrics such as wool and cotton in neutral palette of grey, brown, khaki are seen throughout the collection. Breaking the stereotypes of offewear, classic coats and suits are made with hidden details such as cut-outs on black tailored suits, abstract printed tops and corset belt on top of white dress.
